

Years ago W.H. was small & his father would go to town with the mule and wagon or buggy. W.H. would tell something bad [?] he didn't like & his father would lock Lena up in the crib & tell W.H. Santa-Bo-Gettus [spelling?] would get her. Naturally W.H. enjoyed the candy his father would bring and if he got Lena locked up he did not have to divide with her. What W.H. didn't know [was that] his father also got a bag for Lena. Finally one day W.H. got frightened [because] Lena made a noise so he wanted his father to turn Lena out. He didn't want the big varmint to get his sister.

W.H. liked to tell all the small children stories so this was his favorite. He would make a sound real bad. W.H. would keep the children entertained.