

I well remember the first tobacco my parents grew. One acre set in what we called the big field on the west side of the house. Mama & Daddy did all the work in the field. There was a Mr. Edward who would visit the farmers & tell them how to care for the tobacco. Things have really changed since then.