

Tonight, Virginia & I went to Countryside Ceramics near Adel. We started a large bowl with rows of mountains around the bowl. We used crystal in the paint. I wonder what mine will look like. I called it western style; you may call it something else. Anyway we worked from 7-10 pm. I hardly got good started. However, I will finally get it finished. I had worked on income tax most of the day.